

Brand Name Equivalence

USG Powerscape® interior linings have been known by different names since their initial testing and introduction as well as for different markets.

Test reports and opinions conducted at the time refer to a number of alternative brands, or use the term Rocklinings where specific branding had not been formalised, but cover all the current USG Powerscape Fiberock® interior linings. They are still the same boards.

Below are listed the different names that USG Powerscape interior linings have been given and their current equivalent.
